

New Regulations.

The Requirements of Special Agents of the Treasury.

MORE RIGID EXAMINATIONS.

Successful Applicants Will Be Considered Probationary for Six Months. Naval Affairs—Violation of Postal Laws. Other Washington Dispatches.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—New regulations relative to the appointment of special agents of the treasury department have been issued as follows: No person shall be appointed a special agent of the treasury department until his fitness has been ascertained by suitable tests.

A special agent should have good character, good habit, good health, a commanding address, and should not be incapacitated by age or other cause for active work. He should possess fair ability and intelligence, and be able to write his own reports in clear, concise, and correct language. He should have a sufficient knowledge of bookkeeping and accounts to comprehend and examine intelligently the system of accounts used in custom houses. Those who apply for these positions will, therefore, be subjected to such an examination as may be necessary to ascertain whether they are possessed of these requisite qualifications. Appointments will be considered probationary for six months, permanency of tenure to be dependent upon the attitude shown by the appointee for the work assigned him. The examinations will be conducted by local boards at the different custom houses, and by a board in this city of which Assistant Secretary Tichenor will be president.

A Yellow Fever Victim.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—Surgeon General Hamilton, of the Marine hospital service, has received a telegram from Delaware Breakwater, stating that the captain of the vessel John A. Briggs, which arrived at that port yesterday with the dead body of the wife of the captain on board, had received orders to proceed to Philadelphia. The captain desires to land the body at that port and ship it by rail to Maudslayi, Me., for burial.

This request cannot be granted until permits have been granted by the states through which the body must pass on its way to Maine, as upon investigation the cause of death was found to be yellow fever, of which some ten cases are said to have occurred during the voyage. The vessel with the body on board will be compelled to remain at quarantine until these permits have been granted or refused.

Not a Court Martial in This Case.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—The report of the court of inquiry which investigated the mishap to the cruiser Boston in Newport harbor has been received at the navy department, but Commodore Walker, who is acting secretary of the navy, declines to give it to the press. He says that he has not examined the report, and therefore does not know what conclusion the court has reached. It is the general impression, however, that the court recommends that no further action be taken in Capt. O'Kane's case, for the reason that the grounding of the Boston was purely accidental, she having struck a sunken wreck, not down on the regular charts and not Rose Rock, as first reported.

Naval Affairs.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—Lieut. S. L. Graham has been ordered to Pittsburgh, Pa., as inspector of steel for the new cruisers.

Capt. Theodore F. Kane has been detached from the command of the Lancaster and placed on waiting orders. The Lancaster, which recently came from Europe, has been placed out of commission at New York. Her officers have also been placed on waiting orders.

There were no lives lost, and only one or two passengers were slightly hurt. The engineer and fireman were badly hurt and scalded. The collision was between two freight trains and a passenger train ran into the obstruction this caused. One baggage car was demolished, one express car burned up and two coaches slightly injured.

Sherwood, of Boston, who is perhaps the greatest living American exponent of the piano, has accepted the directorship of the piano department of the Chicago conservatory. LABOR NEWS.

No Settlement to the Illinois Miners' Troubles—Other Strikes.

STREATOR, Ill., Aug. 22.—But very few men were at work in either the Coal Run company's mine or in the numerous smaller shafts about Streator yesterday. At Lukins & Cavanagh a shaft only a dozen men went down in the morning out of something over one hundred who have been working there steadily, and the same proportionate decrease is reported at the other mines. These men have been receiving eighty cents per ton, the price demanded by the men, but as long as no settlement it could be reached with the larger operators all were ordered out. Another mass meeting will be held Friday.

Signaling the Glassworkers' Strike.

Fox of the Union Glassworkers' association states that two firms have already signed their scale and that seven other firms have asked that a copy of the scale be sent to them for consideration. No information could be had as to who the applicants or signers were, other than that, none were Pittsburgh companies.

BURKE, HE SUSPECT.

A Dozen Witnesses Call Foro' Him. Proceedings at the Carlson Cottage.

CHICAGO, Aug. 22.—Yesterday afternoon Attorney Forest called on Connelley, one of the Cronin suspects, and from the ex-detective he went directly to the boys' department where he had a talk with Burke that lasted fully an hour and a half. The subject of acting as Mr. Kennedy's assistant, was no longer in point for the Wilson senator is in town and able to look after his clients' interests now if he ever will be. Senator Kennedy and Mr. Forest left the jail together and the latter was looking decidedly worried. As the coils tighten around Burke the danger of his turning on his fellow-conspirators to save his own neck becomes stronger. Senator Kennedy, Burke's attorney, went from the jail to the state's attorney's office and had a half hour's chat with Judge Loaguecker.

Mr. Kennedy became very indignant when it was suggested to him that he had made a proposition to have Burke turn state evidence. He said: "We have been having a general conversation and our only talk on the Cronin case was when I asked the judge how long he thought the case would last; how many weeks it would take to get a jury, etc."

The state will have a baker's dozen of witnesses at least, to prove Burke's frequent presence in the Carlson cottage. A young bricklayer, who lives in the vicinity, saw him there several times, as he went home from work and identified him in the jail yesterday. All the attorneys profess to be ready to go to trial next Monday.

At His Old Home Again

President Harrison's Safe Arrival at Indianapolis.

AN ENTHUSIASTIC WELCOME.

Great Crowds of His Old Friends and Neighbors Greet Him After an Absence of Six Months—A Speech of Welcome and Response by the Distinguished Guest.

INDIANAPOLIS, Aug. 22.—The reception last night given to President Harrison on his return home to take part in the monument exercises after six months' absence, was as enthusiastic as were the parting congratulations when he left for Washington last February. At the Union station there was a great crowd to greet him, and at 9 o'clock when the train from Cincinnati rolled into the depot the encores were most cordial. At the same time a battery from the arsenal, under command of Capt. Rexford, U. S. A., gave the usual salute of twenty-one guns.

In less than twenty minutes after the arrival of the train the president and his party were at the New Denison, the drive there being witnessed by throngs of cheering people. On leaving the station the governor's guard of the state militia preceded the carriage in which were President Harrison, Governor Hovey and Mayor Denny, but in the interval came a hundred or more of the survivors of the president's old regiment, the Seventieth. Following were carriages of the committee that went to Cincinnati, and the committee likewise, of citizens to meet the distinguished guest. The line was headed by a band, and thus with the enthusiasm of the populace giving its force to the reception, the march continued.

At the New Denison there was a great crowd blocking the streets and packing the corridors. Alighting, the president was saluted by the governor's guard, which the president acknowledged, as he did the welcome of the people on the way from the station. As he passed into the hotel the crowd cheered, and the president then being escorted to the large parlors, was surrounded by the committee, at the head of which was Mr. George W. Turner, president of the board of trade. Mr. Turner, in a brief speech, welcomed the president to his old home. Gen. J. R. Carrahan then, on behalf of the monument commission, welcomed the distinguished guest.

The president, in response, said he did not know how to express his feelings at this return to his home. He did not expect to be with old friends so soon when he left to assume his arduous duties, but he felt that he could not be absent on an occasion like that to be observed on the morrow. He had always taken a deep interest in the monument to be erected to the soldiers, and hoped again to be with the people of Indianapolis when the cap stone is laid. The president then held a short reception. To-day he will take part in laying the corner stone of the monument.

At Cincinnati.

CINCINNATI, Aug. 22.—The train bearing the presidential party arrived here at 10:30, and was met at the depot by the reception committee headed by Comptroller Stevens, Mayor Mosby and Governor Foraker. The depot and streets in the vicinity were crowded with thousands of men, women and children from all parts of the city and suburbs. The president was escorted to the Burnet house by the First Regiment, O. N. G. and Battery B, where an address of welcome was delivered by Mayor Mosby.

At noon a reception was tendered the president at the Builders' Exchange, in Greenwood hall, at Sixth and Vine streets, after which he was escorted to the chamber of commerce, where a reception was given to the members and their families. This was followed by a public reception. At 2 o'clock the president lunched at the Burnet and received friends, and at 4 departed for Indianapolis.

TAYLOR FALLS, Minn., Aug. 22.—The log jam that was formed at the rapids at Big Rock, two miles above here, broke at 1 o'clock Tuesday afternoon and filled the dams and the river up to the falls. The Daily News commenting upon this dispatch, says it hopes that if Europe will not interfere to prevent such abominable wickedness Russia will, and speedily.

A NIGHT ON MOUNT HOOD.

Three Portland Ladies Have a Thrilling Experience.

PORTLAND, Ore., Aug. 22.—Three Portland ladies—Mrs. George Bonar, Mrs. Frank Morgan and Miss Sallie Wiborg—had a thrilling experience on Mount Hood the other day. They became separated from a party that made the ascent a few days ago, and spent the greater part of the dreary night on barren rock, 10,000 feet above the sea. The party consisting of three men and six women, began the ascent at 10 o'clock in the morning, and in the face of a strong cold wave reached the summit after a climb of six hours. The descent was made by 7 o'clock in the evening, but the three ladies were missing.

The alarm was given among the hundreds of campers on the prairie at the base of the mountain and fifty men armed with guns and lanterns started out to search for the lost ones. Several smaller parties started bonfires in sheltered places and fired signal guns every few minutes. All night the search was kept up. Men scoured every nook and crevice of the snow-clad peak from its base almost to the summit. Signal fires were lighted near the base of the mountain wherever they were sheltered from wind.

About 3 o'clock in the morning, on the eastern slope of the mountain, the women were found huddled together to keep warm. The ladies said that when they found that they had become separated from the party they wandered about for hours. They frequently heard panthers and wolves. Fearing attack they sought a place on the top of the rock, where they were found. The only weapon they had was a long alpenstock, with sharpened iron bolts in one end. Miss Wiborg held it, and several times when wolves and panthers were growling about the base of the rock on which they were perched she made ready to use it in defense of their lives.

Four More Seizures.

The Rush Kept Very Busy in Behring Sea.

THE VESSELS SENT TO SITKA.

It is Likely That They Followed the Example of the Black Diamond and Went Elsewhere—Other Vessels Searched and Sent Out of the Sea—How the News Was Received in Washington.

VICTORIA, B. C., Aug. 22.—Yesterday afternoon the steamer Olympian brought from Port Townsend Capt. Alger, of the American sealing schooner Allie L. Alger, and one of his hunters, both fresh from Behring sea, and they brought news of importance with them.

The captain, who was interviewed immediately on arrival, said: "On the 30th of July we were in Behring sea, as nearly as we can judge, about fifty miles west of S. Paula, when we sighted the cutter Rush steaming to us on our quarter. We at once gave chase. Some minutes afterward a boat put off from the Rush and Lieut. Tuttle boarded her. He asked for my papers, which I at once handed him, and after perusing them he proceeded with two men to search the ship. He did not find anything, however, though that is not to say there was nothing to find on board. After coming up out of the hold, when he had finished searching the ship, I said to him:

"Well, what luck have you had in your search?" He said: "I'll tell you. On the 11th of July we captured the Black Diamond and dispatched her to Sitka with a man on board to take charge of her. On the 23d day of July we sighted the schooner Minnie. Her owner, Capt. Jacobson, was aboard at the time, and she had 843 seals. We took possession of her and dispatched her to Sitka also. Yesterday (20th of July) we bore down on the Pathfinder and found 800 seal skins aboard of her. We put another man aboard her and ordered her off to Sitka as well. Last week we boarded both the Arct and the Theresa. They also had some skins aboard but we let them go, as they had been too long caught, but ordering them out of the sea."

"After telling me this the lieutenant told me I had better get out of the sea at once, and was then pulled aboard the steamer, which headed for the east. We then set sail for the south, and arrived Monday at Neah bay. I then left my schooner there and came up from Cape Flattery to Port Townsend, I caught the Olympian and just reached Victoria. My schooner will, I expect, be on the road to Seattle now. I leave here on the Olympian to-day to rejoin her."

The Story Reaches Washington.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—The news brought to Victoria by Capt. Alger, of the sealer Allie Alger, had the effect of creating an unusual amount of interest among the few officials of the state and treasury departments who remain in the city. Acting Secretary Hatcheller was first informed of the seizures reported by Capt. Alger by a United Press reporter. He was much interested in the reading of this dispatch, and when it was finished characteristically remarked: "Now there will be fun."

Gen. Hatcheller, when questioned as to the action of the commander of the Rush in placing but one man aboard the seized vessel as a prize crew, said that the Rush had only enough men to navigate her. Her commander could not afford to spare more than one man for each vessel, or, Gen. Hatcheller added, he would probably have done so.

"When the Black Diamond was seized by the Rush," he went on to say, "his captain refused to allow his crew, and declined himself, to be placed under parole to go to Sitka peacefully. It is likely that the captains of the two seized vessels, the Minnie and the Pathfinder, followed his example, so that they broke no agreement, if this surmise should prove to be correct."

"We will keep right on seizing," he said in conclusion, "and in the meantime will await patiently the official report of these seizures from the captain of the Rush."

Acting Secretary Wharton, of the state department, also received his first intimation of the seizures from a United Press reporter. He declined to express any opinion, however. "It will be time enough for such an expression," he said, "when these last seizures come before the department formally."

Saw the Building Set on Fire.

NEW YORK, Aug. 22.—At the coroner's inquest yesterday, Joseph Popa, aged 13 years, who lived in the rear tenement of 807 Seventh avenue, which was burned on Monday and at which ten lives were lost, made an affidavit that on Monday morning a little before 5 o'clock he saw a man with a white apron in the kitchen of Snyder's restaurant, take some burning pieces of wood and scatter them about the floor of the kitchen and throw something over them from a dishpan. The man then seized a broom and ran out into the street. In a moment the flames burst forth furiously. Detective Hayes, who was the first to reach the fire, says that he found Snyder on the sidewalk with a broom in his hand. The boy was sent to the house of detention as a witness.

ROSSER & MCCARTHY,
Proprietors.

THURSDAY, AUG. 22, 1889.

In 1887 the Republicans carried fifty counties in this State. At the late election they carried only thirty-three. What's the matter with Colson?

MR. CARLISLE has received more attention from Mexican officials than any American since General Grant's visit. The Mexicans are taking delight in honoring the distinguished Kentuckian, a fact that ought to be and is gratifying to his admirers everywhere.

ONE of the offices to be filled by the next Legislature is that of State Librarian. Colonel Ed Porter Thompson, the present incumbent, has announced himself as a candidate for re-election. He is filling the vacancy caused by the death of Mrs. Hanson, and the Louisville Times states that "all accounts agree he has made a deserving public servant." However, he evidently anticipates opposition.

At the recent election for State Treasurer, Judge Sharp received 147,727 votes, Mr. Colson 114,253, and Mr. Cobb 3,351; Sharp's plurality, 33,469. In 1887 Governor Buckner received 143,270, Bradley 126,473, Fox (Prohibitionist) 8,394. The vote of Breathitt and Letcher counties is not included in the above figures for Sharp Colson and Cobb. The returns, however, show that the Democrats did much better at the late election than in 1887.

ASSISTANT SECRETARY BUSSEY has reversed another one of Ex Commissioner Black's important rulings in the pension department. Bussey holds that the dishonorable discharge of a soldier is no bar to his asking for and obtaining a pension. The Courier-Journal remarks that "under this ruling the deserter who was shot in the heel while running toward the enemy may become one of the Nation's wards, and assist in reducing the surplus."

BROTHER DAVIS wants the Republicans to place a full county ticket in the field next August. It's a long ways off, but we are confidently informed there are two or three hundred Republicans in town who are with him in this matter—they want to see him get out a full ticket so they can march up to the polls and slaughter it. Brother Davis hasn't heard the last of the late campaign. The row in the Republican ranks promises to be prolonged and very lively.

THE New York Mercury thinks the shooting of Judge Terry by Deputy U. S. Marshal Nagle was "the sequel of an unprecedented order by the Attorney General of the United States, Miller—that a United States Marshal should protect the Justice of the Supreme Federal Court while he was in California." It was a fortunate thing, perhaps, that a Deputy Marshal was with Judge Field at the time, whether under orders from the Attorney General or not. Had he not been present, there would, in all probability, now be a vacancy on the Supreme Bench for President Harrison to fill.

Twenty-Five-Thirty.

CHARLEY Seymour of Columbus, O., will see more of Maysville than he bargained for when he came here. He is the "shell-worker," who raised a row at Watkins' saloon Tuesday night and was nabbed by Marshal Hefflin. At his trial before Mayor Pearce yesterday afternoon he was fined $25 and given a thirty days contract at cracking rock for the city. The "shell-workers" had better give Maysville a wide berth.

THE Mason and Ford Company, lessees of the Kentucky penitentiary, have purchased three hundred acres of ground on South Elkhorn, near Frankfort, and will cultivate it exclusively for producing supplies for convicts.

In the midst of the prevailing gaiety during the successful beginning of the "blue ribbon fair," it is distressing to report a sad casualty by which one of our most-esteemed citizens met with a serious loss. Mr. Geo. Newdigate's thoroughbred pennyroyal bull collided with the "F. F. V." on its west-bound trip yesterday with sufficient force to fracture the right fore leg above the knee (Chawlee) and the painful duty of slaying the proud animal was imposed upon its owner and Mr. David Goliath Atkinson, who proceeded to the scene of the accident this morning, armed with a deadly flobert rifle and relieved the bovine of his agony. We learn that the animal is valued at $1,500, more or less, but the matter of damages may never reach the courts, as Mr. Augustus Belvidere Honshell is in town and will doubtless put up the boodle.

Piles! Piles! Piles!

Dr. McDowell, the specialist of Cincinnati, will be at the European Hotel during the fair, where he may be consulted by all afflicted with piles or other rectal trouble. 21d3t

The Assembly Hop.

The first of the fair hops by Maysville Assembly was given last night at Neptune Hall, and was an elegant affair throughout. About one hundred lovely belles and handsome beaux were present, and danced to their heart's content to music furnished by Tony Delissa's Italian orchestra of Portsmouth, Ohio. Lunch was served at a late hour at the European Hotel. A detailed account of the affair cannot be given in this issue for want of space.

House Burned.

The frame cottage of Mr. John Cox in "Sleepy Hollow" near the first toll-gate on the Mt. Carmel pike was burned to the ground yesterday morning at 10 o'clock. Mr. Cox was absent from home at the time, and Mrs. Cox says a couple of tramps called and asked for something to eat. She refused to give them any food, when they ran her away from the house and then set fire to it. The building was soon destroyed, together with its contents. The tramps made their escape. The loss is placed at about $800. The building was insured for $450 in the Hartford, Mr. J. K. Lloyd, agent.

THE FAIR AND RACES

Big Crowd Present on the Opening Day of the Annual Meeting.

Remarkable Record in the 3:00 Trot. Summary of the Races—List of the Premiums.

The Maysville fair and races for 1889 commenced yesterday, under the most favorable auspices.

A big crowd was present for the opening day, fully twenty-five hundred or three thousand people being in attendance. It was ladies' and children's day, and they turned out in large numbers. Everybody seemed to have a good time, the day passing off very pleasantly for all present. The weather was a little too warm in the afternoon for one's comfort, but this and the dust was the only thing to interfere with the enjoyment of the occasion. The indications point to a most successful meeting.

The exhibition in the arena yesterday was confined to mules, jacks and jennets, saddlemares and draft horses. There were some fine fields, especially in the latter classes, which, as a rule, were well filled. The directors were Messrs. R. C. Kirk, James E. Cahill, C. C. Hopper, and W. D. Cushman. Following is a list of the premiums awarded:

Pair mules, two years old or over, age to be considered; Alex Duke, of Mayslick, $10.
Mule, any age; Alex Duke, of Mayslick, $10.
Mule colt, cup, by H. Lange, Jeweler, Cincinnati, O.; (didn't fill.)
Jack, any age; H. C. Stone, of Mt. Gleed, $10.
Jennet, any age; Nicholas King, of Mason County, $10.
Saddle mare, four years old and over; N. H. Rowland, of Lexington, $20.
Saddle mare, three years old and under four; N. H. Rowland, of Lexington, $15.
Saddle mare, two years old and under three; Oscar Ham, Nicholas County, $10.
Saddle mare, one year old and under two; (no premium—two entries.)
Saddle mare, under one year; R. C. Kirk, of Maysville, $5.
Draft stallion, any age; Cornelius Wilson, Huntington Township, Brown County, O., $10.
Draft mare; J. T. Pickrell, of Red Oak, O., $10.
Draft gelding; E. Martin, Brown County, O., $10.
Draft colt; George Knoeshaw, of Mason County, $5.

The boys' potato race was on the programme, but the youngsters probably thought it wasn't a good day for racing after potatoes. It didn't fill.

The mule race in the afternoon was the amusing event of the day. It was a mile dash, the fastest mule to get the prize, a purse of $10. There were four to start, but two of them seemed to prefer any part of the grounds to the track, and never showed up in the race. It was nip and tuck between the other two down the back stretch, but B. Martin's Jocha, from Hillsboro, Ky., won by several lengths. Jocha won at the Sharpsburg fair last week. He's a fast mule.

There were two races on the programme, the 2:26 and 3:00 trots. Acolyte in the one and Norval in the other had things their own way, and won easily in straight heats. Norval's trotting was remarkably fast for the class. He is a fine bay stallion by Electioneer, dam by Almont, and was bought by Col. Pepper, of Frankfort, from Senator Stanford, of California, last winter for $15,000. He was brought from Palo Alto Stock Farm in February, and placed in Colonel Pepper's stables. After a heavy season, his book showing ninety entries, he was taken out of the stud a month or so ago. With no record and with only three weeks handling, he started yesterday in his first race, and made the remarkable time of 2:21½ in the first heat. The two other heats were finished in 2:25 and 2:22½. This was done easily—the last quarter in two of the heats being trotted in a jog. It is predicted

Norval will lower his record to 2:16 before the season is over. He is a smooth, easy trotter, and never left his feet once in the three heats.

In the other race, the bay stallion Acolyte by Onward, dam by Almont, had an easy time in nearly every heat, winning the race in 2:23, 2:25 and 2:23. Acolyte was lately sold by Colonel Pepper for $40,000.

Hunter Bell did some fast trotting in the 3:00 class, and got second money. In the other class Lexington Boy and Strathwood were pretty evenly matched, the first named winning second money.

Messrs. J. Wilson Edwards, H. P. Chenoweth and P. P. Parker were the judges, the first named acting as starter. The timers were Messrs. A. G. Leonard, of Lexington; E. L. Ayers, of Frankfort, and Jos. Gear, of Cincinnati. Following is a summary of the races:

3:00 TROT—PURSE $400.
Norval.....1 1 1
Hunter Bell.....2 2 2
Bourbon Russell.....3 3 3
Sim Brown.....4 4 4
Almont.....5 5 5
Time 2:23, 2:25, 2:23.

2:26 TROT—PURSE $400.
Acolyte.....1 1 1
Lexington Boy.....2 2 2
Strathwood.....3 3 3
Pattie Cooper.....4 4 4
Time 2:23, 2:25, 2:23.

Gertie Harkaway, owned by W. A. Russell, of Danville, paced a mile to beat 2:30, and came under the wire in 2:26½. She is by Harkaway, dam by Richelien.

Robert Mantel, by Pretender, was trotted a mile with a running mate to beat 2:30, but failed.

Zadie Wilkes, by Gambetta Wilkes, was given a heat to beat 2:40, and got there in 2:33. She is owned by the Cecil brothers, of Danville.

NOTES.

The C. and O. handled 1,500 people yesterday.

The surrounding towns were all well represented.

Mr. Mark Kehoe is the accommodating Assistant Secretary.

The Flying Dutchman is a big attraction for the youngsters, and did a rushing business.

The track is a little heavy on account of the dust. A nice rain would improve things wonderfully.

Ripley sent up a big crowd, and they were all talking up the young men's fair at that place next week.

Three races today. Nancy Hanks is the favorite in the stake race for three-year-olds, and Cognac in the 2:20 pace.

The new Secretary's office is a big improvement on the old one. It is much more comfortable and is more conveniently situated, midway of the amphitheatre, under the reporters' stand.

"BUD" RENAUD'S TRIAL.

He Rests His Case on the Evidence Produced by the State.

PURVIS, Miss., Aug. 22.—The missing state witness, John Poole, was on hand, and the case against "Bud" Renaud (his name is P. A. Renaud) was proceeded with. It took a long time to bring together a jury, but early in the afternoon eleven white men and one negro were sworn in. Renaud was represented by Messrs. Calhoun and Green, of Jackson, Miss., and Mr. Lionel Adams, of New Orleans—the same lawyers that had represented Sullivan, except that Hon. T. S. Ford was not present.

The counsel for the defense raised numerous objections, all of which were combated by District Attorney Neville for the state and overruled by Judge Terrell. It was urged that the law of Mississippi did not recognize as an offense the aiding and abetting of a misdemeanor; that the indictment against Renaud was fatally faulty, inasmuch as it did not distinctly and definitely specify the offense for which Mr. Renaud had been indicted; that there was no statutory provision for permitting a term of the court for Marion county (Second district) to extend over six days, and a number of technical objections which would be uninteresting to note.

Numerous witnesses were examined, including Mr. John Fitzpatrick, the referee; Mayor Robinson, of Purvis; two conductors on the Queen and Crescent railway and several others. The line of defense, as far as shown in the cross-examination, was to show that the state had failed to prove anything beyond the fact that Mr. Renaud was present at the ringside, and witnessed the fight merely as an ordinary spectator. Nothing at all startling was developed on either side. The state rested its case late in the afternoon, and the defense rested on the evidence of the state's witnesses, when the court adjourned.

ATTEMPTED ASSASSINATION.

A Moonshiner Seriously Wounds a Deputy United States Marshal.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Aug. 22.—The American's special from South Pittsburg, Tenn., says: A bold attempt to assassinate Deputy United States Marshal Samuel Hughes took place at White Will, twenty miles up the valley from this place yesterday evening at 6 o'clock. The deputy marshal had arrested John Tipton for wildcatting, and had left him with an accompanying officer and had gone further down the mountain to arrest some of his colleagues, when he suddenly ran up on two men with shotguns. They told the officer to stop, and upon his refusing to do so, one of them, John Hobbs, fired at him at a space of thirty yards, eight backshots taking effect.

The officer pulled his revolver as the would-be assassin ran off, but as it refused to work he could not shoot. A day-book in his coat pocket saved his life, a bullet going through the book and into his breast just above the heart. The moonshiners have been defying the officers, and Officer Hughes attempted their arrest with the above result. His wounds were dressed at Jasper, and he left for more reinforcements.

Colfax, Illinois, on Fire.

*Bloomington, Ill., Aug. 22.—The city of Colfax, this county, on the Illinois Central road, twenty miles northwest, is in flames, and it is believed, will be entirely destroyed. The Bloomington fire department has been telegraphed for aid. No particulars are likely to be obtained for some time.

The troublesome title land question was discussed at great length and again referred to a committee.
